

From the Editor

Human Behavior, Development and Society (HBDS) is an international, open-access, interdisciplinary peer-reviewed journal published three issues a year by Asia-Pacific International University (AIU). HBDS publishes findings and discussions regarding most aspects of human behavior, development, and society. The journal's scope is to advance knowledge through the use of classical methods of investigation and to foster the examination of cross-cultural issues that increase mutual understanding among diverse social groups within the international community, with a particular emphasis on Southeast Asia. All articles in the journal are indexed with the Thai-Journal Citation Index Centre (TCI), ASEAN Citation Index (ACI), and with the EBSCO database.

This issue of HBDS is the second issue of 2023. It contains 10 articles, six of which were written by researchers external to the university, and four that were authored by AIU researchers. We are delighted to see reports and findings from various disciplines including business, education, health, and religious studies. The articles in this issue reflect studies conducted in Asian contexts including Malaysia, the Philippines, and Thailand; there is also one article from the United Arab Emirates. We hope that this issue of HBDS will contribute to the development of society and serve as a source of information for various academic fields and research projects.

We would like to invite readers to publish your valuable papers with us. More information may be found on our website, <https://www.tci-thaijo.org/index.php/hbds>. We would also appreciate comments or suggestions from you to help us improve the journal. Finally, we appreciate the hard work of authors, reviewers, editorial board members, executive board members, and journal staff members who have contributed to making this achievement a reality.
